

Stanford University in the United States has updated the list of the world's most influential researchers. Considered the most prestigious of its kind, this selection is based on the international Scopus database, covering 22 major scientific fields and 174 subfields. Updated in September 2025, this ranking highlights the TOP 2% of the most active scientists worldwide, across all disciplines.

Congratulations to the 18 CTM researchers for this outstanding achievement

* Marc Bardou	PUPH CHU-Dijon, Gastroenterology
* Bélaid Bouhemad	PUPH CHU-Dijon, Anesthesia/Intensive Care
* Anne-Marie Bouvier	DR2 Inserm, Epidemiology
* Philippe Bonniaud	PUPH CHU-Dijon, Pulmonology
* Dominique Delmas	PRE Univ. Bourgogne Europe, Bioactive Molecules
* Damien Denimal	PUPH CHU-Dijon, Endocrinology
*# Laurence Faivre	PUPH CHU-Dijon, Genetics of Rare Diseases
*# Carmen Garrido	DRE Inserm, Heat Shock Proteins
*# François Ghiringhelli	PU-PH CGFL, Immuno-oncology
* Pierre Grégoire Guinot	PU-CU CHU, Anesthesia/Intensive Care
* Sylvain Ladoire	PU-PH CGFL, Immuno-oncology
Laurent Lagrost	DR1 Inserm, Lipid Receptors
*# Olivier Micheau	DR2 Inserm, TNF Family Receptors
* Jean-Pierre Quenot	PU-PH CHU-Dijon, Emergency Medicine
* Cédric Rébé	CRN CGFL, Immuno-oncology
* Christel Thauvin-Robinet	PU-PH CHU-Dijon, Genetics of Rare Diseases
* Charles Thomas	PU, Univ. Bourgogne Europe, Endocrinology/Metabolism
*# Bruno Vergès	PU-PH CHU-Dijon, Endocrinology

List of CTM researchers in alphabetical order :

* = researchers included in the 2025 annual individual list

= researchers included in the 2025 career list